

Fly'N Squares Presents

HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER SQUARE DANCE

The famous Hands Across the Border Square Dance will be held at the world famous Haskell Library, a building split by the Canada/US border (Stanstead, QC/Derby Line, VT). As we circle or promenade we continually cross the demarcation line painted on the floor of the reading room in this historic international library/opera house. As the reading room can accommodate only four squares, most dancers will dance in the attractive and comfortable large church hall a few hundred feet away with improved acoustics. We will take turns dancing in the library. With the enhanced US border security, this event was difficult to arrange, and we are fortunate to once again be able to offer you this unique in North America experience! Dangles available.

Sunday June 12, 2011 from 2 - 4 pm

Come early to help set up at 1:30pm

After the dances, dine out at area restaurants or Potluck in the Weller Workshop- the rustic top floor of the hanger building on our farm. Great views and cool breezes and plane rides. For more info contact: George Weller 819-876-2528 gweller@abacom.com or George Waugh 450-372-7513

More info:

Coming from the Canadian side, cross the border into the USA and park in front of the UU Church which is across from Irving station in Derby Line, VT . Passport or proper id is required when you cross the border into the USA.

Coming from the USA side, bring your passport or proper id to cross the border into Canada so you can visit Stanstead, QC and enjoy the local area restaurants, and/or accommodations.

Check out: <http://www.haskellopera.org>
<http://www.stanstead.ca>
www.homesteadcourses.com
<http://www.vtnorthcountry.org/> (800) 635-4643